

ACFM 201 - Extra Credit Rubric

Points Available	2	1	0
Criteria	Full Credit	Partial Credit	No credit
Connection to Course Material	Clearly and accurately applies relevant legal concepts or cases from class. Demonstrates strong understanding and explains ideas in accessible, engaging terms.	References appropriate course concepts, but explanation is somewhat surface-level or missing elements.	Mentions course material vaguely or incorrectly; shows limited understanding of the topic.
Creativity and Engagement	Original and engaging presentation. Creative approach enhances understanding of the material and holds audience attention.	Creative effort evident, but not consistently engaging or fresh.	Minimal creativity or effort to engage the audience; presentation feels rushed.
Clarity and Organization	Content flows logically and is easy to follow. Ideas are clearly expressed; transitions and pacing work well.	Generally organized, though some points feel unclear or out of order.	Disorganized or difficult to follow; unclear explanation or missing key steps.
Effort and Professionalism	High effort and polish appropriate to a college-level submission. Attention to detail (sound, visuals, editing, or design) enhances the project's impact.	Adequate effort shown; some rough edges or inconsistencies in delivery.	Minimal effort evident; unfinished, sloppy, or poorly edited presentation.
